

Stephanie Schauder

Uris Hall 429, Ithaca, NY 14850 | sas648@cornell.edu | 704-778-2280

Education

CORNELL UNIVERSITY

Ithaca, NY | 2015-present

- Economics PhD Candidate

DAVIDSON COLLEGE

Davidson, NC | 2011-2015

- Bachelor of Arts in Economics, Minor in Mathematics
- Magna Cum Laude

Publications

- Schauder, Stephanie A., and Mark C. Foley. "The Relationship Between Active Transportation and Health." Journal of Transport and Health 2, no. 3 (2015): 343-349.

Presentations

- "Use of an Agent-Based Model for Insight into the Role of the Fresh Fruit and Vegetable Program on Preference Formation." AAEA meeting, Atlanta, GA, July 2019
- "The Effect of Sprawl Development, Population Density, and Transportation Costs on Food Access." University of Arkansas, Fayetteville, AR, March 2019
- "Optimal Firm Location, Income Segregation, and Food Deserts." Duke Forest Conference, Durham, NC. November 2016
- "The Relationship Between Active Transportation and Health." Health Economists' Study Group (HESG), Leeds, UK, January 2015

Other Papers

- "The Effect of Sprawl Development on Grocery Store Location and Food Access" (Job Market Paper)
- "Optimal Firm Location with Income Segregation and Heterogenous Transportation Costs," with Shyam Gouri Suresh
- "Use of an Agent-Based Model for Insight into the Role of the Fresh Fruit and Vegetable Program on Preference Formation" with Michael Thomsen and Rodolfo Nayga
- "The Effect of the Medicaid Expansion on Opioid Addiction"

Work Experience

COORDINATING TEACHING ASSISTANT

Cornell University | Fall 2018

- Managed 5 teaching assistants and the logistics for a 500-person Introductory Microeconomics class

USDA ECONOMIC RESEARCH SERVICE

Washington D.C. | Summer 2018

- Developed an empirical model for a project about racial disparities in obesity
- Wrote Stata code to analyze restricted data

Stephanie Schauder

Uris Hall 429, Ithaca, NY 14850 | sas648@cornell.edu | 704-778-2280

RESEARCH ASSISTANT

Cornell University | Spring 2018

- Performed empirical analysis in Stata for a randomized control trial on desludging in Senegal
- Prepared graphs and tables for presentations and contributed to a paper for publication

RESEARCH ASSISTANT

Cornell University | 2017

- Created code in R to impute county variables for restricted access U.S. Census Bureau data
- Trained 5 other research assistants and oversaw a project on replicability of economics papers; reproduced results from AER papers and wrote about findings

TEACHING ASSISTANT

Cornell University | Fall 2016

- Planned and taught Introductory Microeconomics class
- Held office hours and helped students understand course material

Awards

INSTITUTE FOR HUMANE STUDIES FELLOWSHIP

Cornell University | 2019

- Selected to receive dissertation funding for the advancement of classical liberal ideas

SAGE FELLOWSHIP

Cornell University | 2015-2020

- Selected to receive two years of full tuition and stipend funding and four summers of funding

BB&T SCHOLAR

Davidson College | 2013-2015

- Selected for academic merit in the Economics Department

Skills

PROGRAMMING

- Proficient in Stata, MATLAB, R, and Excel
- Have used ArcGIS and SAS
- Have used versioning systems Git and Subversion
- Completed High Performance Computing for Economists two-day workshop focused on using Linux, command line tools, versioning systems, and an overview of programming languages such as Julia, SAS, and R

FOREIGN LANGUAGES

- Moderate proficiency in Spanish

Stephanie Schauder

Uris Hall 429, Ithaca, NY 14850 | sas648@cornell.edu | 704-778-2280

Professional Service

GRAD/PROF. STUDENT MENTAL HEALTH COUNCIL Ithaca, NY | 2018-present

- Applied for and was selected to serve on a council which advises the Cornell graduate school on mental health programs and issues affecting graduate students

CORNELL PRISON EDUCATION PROGRAM Ithaca, NY | Fall 2017

- Planned and taught a pre-algebra class for three hours a week at Five Points Correctional Facility in Seneca County, NY

GRADUATE STUDENT ASSOCIATION TREASURER Ithaca, NY | 2017-2018

- Elected to represent peers to the Economics department leadership, and to address concerns of graduate students
- Attended a conference on diversity in economics and presented findings in workshop to students and faculty
- Co-organized event to support women in the Economics profession
- Organized department mentorship program

Community Service

BIG BROTHERS BIG SISTERS Ithaca, NY | 2017-present

- Paired with a child in the community for mentorship and friendship
- Designed activities and met once per week to enjoy each other's company

ITHACA RESCUE MISSION Ithaca, NY | 2015

The Ithaca Rescue Mission fights hunger and homelessness through providing food, shelter, help navigating government services, and assistance with finding employment and transportation

- Worked in the food pantry assisting clients with nutritional needs
- Performed various needed tasks such as sorting mail and cleaning